Odum builds park to honor fellow Crenshaw veterans

By BY ANNALYN WEED

 Satan's Weeds (to the tune of the Cadillacs' 1957 hit)

 Rock's family has been on the land for over 150 years. The Flinn family moved to the area after the Civil War, and Matilda Flinn, the great-great-great-great-grandmother of current homeowner Ann Flinn, was one of the first families to settle the land.

 Matilda Flinn was known for her hard work and dedication to her family and community. She had a natural talent for farming and was skilled at caring for her family's animals. She was also known for her kindness and generosity, and was often seen helping others in need.

 Matilda Flinn passed away in 1930, leaving behind a legacy of hard work, dedication, and love. Her family continued to live on the land, passing it down through the generations. Today, Ann Flinn is the sixth generation to live in the Flinn home on the 315-acre plot of land.

 The Flynn family has a long history in Crenshaw County, and has made many contributions to the community over the years. The family has been involved in agriculture, education, and local government, and has helped to improve the lives of those in the community.

 The Flynn family continues to live on the land and to share their family history with others. The family's story is one of hard work, dedication, and love, and serves as a reminder of the importance of preserving our heritage.

 FLYNN FAMILY

 Flinn family remains in Kulotte for over 100 years

 Born in 1940, Muriel Flynn is the great-great-great-granddaughter of Matilda Flinn, the original McGehee, my grandmother. My grandmother was a very special lady who always made me feel welcome at her house. She was a strong woman who taught me many valuable lessons in life.

 My grandmother passed away in 2012, and I was lucky enough to spend time with her before she passed. She always had a smile on her face and a kind word for everyone she met. She was a tireless worker who never seemed to stop.

 My grandmother was a very special lady who always made me feel welcome at her house. She was a strong woman who taught me many valuable lessons in life.

 Today, I am proud to carry on the legacy of my grandmother and to continue to honor her memory. I will always remember the lessons she taught me and the love she showed others. Her memory will live on in the hearts of those who knew her, and her legacy will continue to inspire us all.

 I will always remember the lessons she taught me and the love she showed others. Her memory will live on in the hearts of those who knew her, and her legacy will continue to inspire us all.

 Photographs courtesy of the Flynn family.
By JOSHUA LEE

The Gregorys lived in Selma for ten years after leaving school. When they returned, they were married and had a daughter. Their daughter was named Hazel Flynn and Bill Gregory. They moved to Luverne and were married in 1948. Hazel Flynn and Bill Gregory were the parents of seven children: Roy, Grant, Tim, Mike, Pam, Chris, and Fran Lorraine. When Hazel Flynn and Bill Gregory moved to Luverne, they lived in a house on the corner of Main Street and Alabama Avenue. The house was old and in need of repair. The Gregorys decided to fix it up and make it their home. They spent many long hours working on the house, and in the end, it became their pride and joy.

Hazel Flynn and Bill Gregory were both very active in the community. Hazel Flynn was a member of the Luverne United Methodist Church and was involved in many of its activities. Bill Gregory was a member of the Luverne High School football team and was a star player. He went on to attend college at Auburn University and played football for the Tigers. Hazel Flynn and Bill Gregory had many friends and were known for their hospitality.

The Gregorys had four of their five sons drafted into the military during the Vietnam War. They were separated from each other and never saw each other again. The Gregorys missed their sons greatly and were always thinking of them.

When the war ended, Roy Gregory returned home and joined the family business. He worked hard and became a successful businessman. He married his wife, Lucinda, and they had four children: Grant, Tim, Mike, and Pam. Roy Gregory was a very kind and compassionate man, and he was loved by everyone who knew him.

Roy Gregory was a very active member of the community. He was a member of the Luverne Rotary Club and was involved in many of its activities. He was also a member of the Luverne High School Football Hall of Fame. Roy Gregory was a very successful businessman, and he left a lasting legacy in the community.

The Gregorys were a very close-knit family. They were always there for each other, and they supported each other in everything they did. They were a very special family, and they will be remembered forever.

Galloway continues example set by family

By ROY JONES

When James "Popfly" Morgan went to work as a typesetter in the Luverne Journal in 1890, he was the first white man to hold an editorial position in the county. Morgan was a member of the Gregory family and was married to Hazel Flynn. Morgan had four sons, and three of them were drafted into the military during the Vietnam War. Morgan was a very successful businessman, and he left a lasting legacy in the community.